This collection object is a “pillow” made from clay. In Ancient China, ceramic pillows had many uses including keeping the head cool. A pillow shaped like a tiger had an added function of protecting the home by keeping evil spirits at bay.